DEFENDANTS.

VERIFIED COMPLAINT
JURY TRIAL DEMANDED

- 1. AIDING AND ABETTING IN VIOLATION OF 18 U.S.C. § 2333(a) and (d)
- 2. CONSPIRACY IN VIOLATION 18 U.S.C. § 2333(a) and (d)
- 3. PROVISION OF MATERIAL SUPPORT IN VIOLATION OF 18 U.S.C. § 2339a AND 18 U.S.C. § 2333
- 4. PROVISION OF MATERIAL SUPPORT IN VIOLATION OF 18 U.S.C. § 2339B(a)(1) AND 18 U.S.C. § 2333(a)
- 5. NEGLIGENT INFLICTION OF EMOTIONAL DISTRESS

1 Plaintiff, by and through his attorneys, allege the following against Defendants Twitter,
2 Google, and Facebook:
3

4 NATURE OF ACTION

- 5 1. For years, Defendants have knowingly and recklessly provided the terrorist group
6 HAMAS with accounts to use its social networks as a tool for spreading extremist 7 propaganda, raising funds, and attracting new recruits. This material support has 8 been instrumental to the rise of HAMAS and has enabled it to carry out numerous
9 terrorist attacks and to incite others to carry out terrorist attacks, including the July
10 7, 2016 shooting of Dallas Police Officers by Micah Johnson who was radicalized, 11 in part, by HAMAS' use of Defendants' sites. In the attack, five officers were 12 murdered, nine officers were wounded. Others, such as Plaintiff Pennie suffered 13 severe emotional distress, continue to receive threats, and live in fear of death or 14 serious bodily harm.

2. Without Defendants Twitter, Facebook, and Google (YouTube), HAMAS’ ability to radicalize and influence individuals to conduct terrorist operations outside the Middle East would not have been possible. Like HAMAS, Defendants also allow ISIS to use their sites to conduct terrorist operations. According to the Brookings Institution, ISIS “has exploited social media, most notoriously Twitter, to send its propaganda and messaging out to the world and to draw in people vulnerable to radicalization.” Using Defendants’ sites, “ISIS has been able to exert an outsized impact on how the world perceives it, by disseminating images of graphic violence (including the beheading of Western journalists and aid workers) . . . while using social media to attract new recruits and inspire lone actor attacks.” According to FBI Director James Comey, ISIS has perfected its use of Defendants’ sites to inspire small-scale individual attacks, “to crowdsource terrorism” and “to sell murder.”

3. Since first appearing on Twitter, terrorist accounts on Twitter have grown at an astonishing rate and, until recently, ISIS and HAMAS maintained official accounts on Twitter unfettered. These official accounts included media outlets, regional hubs and well-known HAMAS and ISIS members, some with tens of thousands of followers. For example, HAMAS's official twitter page @HamasInfoEn has 37.3 thousand followers.

4. The Arabic version of HAMAS' official twitter page @hamasinfo has been active since October 2010 and boasts 281,000 followers.<sup>1</sup>
5. Another HAMAS twitter account @HamasGlobalPR has been active since June 2010 and boasts 9,593 followers.<sup>2</sup>

- 1 6. As with Twitter, HAMAS has used Google (YouTube) and Facebook in a similar
2 manner. Defendants are fully aware that HAMAS and other extremist groups use
3 their sites to conduct terrorist operations.
4
- 5 7. Plaintiffs' claims are based not upon the content of HAMAS' social media postings,
6 but upon Defendants provision of the infrastructure which provides material support
7 to HAMAS. Furthermore, Defendants profit from HAMAS by placing ads on 8 HAMAS' postings. For at least one of the Defendants, Google, revenue earned from 9 advertising is shared with HAMAS. Lastly, Defendants incorporate HAMAS'
10 postings to create unique content by combining the HAMAS postings with 11 advertisements selected by Defendants based upon HAMAS' postings and the viewer
12 looking at the postings and the advertisements.

10 ALLEGATIONS

- 11
12 14. HAMAS is an offshoot of the radical militant Islamist organization known as the 13 Muslim Brotherhood. The Muslim Brotherhood was founded in Egypt in 1928. The 14 Muslim Brotherhood's mottos include: "Islam is the answer"; and "Allah is our 15 objective, the Qur'an is the Constitution, the Prophet [Mohammed] is our leader,
16 jihad [holy war] is our way, death for the sake of Allah is our wish."
17
18 15. When Palestinians launched the "First Intifada" (or "uprising") against Israel in 19 December 1987, the leader of the Muslim Brotherhood in Gaza, Sheik Ahmad
20 Yassin formed Harakat al-Muqawama al-Islamiyya (the "Islamic Resistance
21 Movement") to join in the violence against Israel and to establish an alternative
22 Islamist movement to challenge the largely secular Palestinian Liberation
23 Organization's ("PLO") claim as the exclusive leadership of the Palestinians. The
25
26
27
28

Islamic Resistance Movement is known by its Arabic acronym: “HAMAS.” The following are the emblem and flag of the terrorist organization HAMAS:

16. Article 6 of the HAMAS Charter states: “The Islamic Resistance Movement is a distinguished Palestinian movement, whose allegiance is to Allah, and whose way of life is Islam. It strives to raise the banner of Allah over every inch of Palestine.” Article 13 states: “Palestine is an Islamic land . . . Since this is the case, the Liberation of Palestine is an individual duty for every Muslim wherever he may be.” Article 15 states: “The day the enemies usurp part of Muslim land, Jihad becomes the individual duty of every Muslim. In the face of the Jews’ usurpation, it is compulsory that the banner of Jihad be raised.”

17. The Izz al-Din al-Qassam Brigades (the “al-Qassam Brigades”) is a constituent paramilitary organization within HAMAS known for carrying out many of HAMAS’s terrorist attacks, including shootings, suicide bombings, IED bombings, missile attacks, underground tunnel attacks, and more. HAMAS and the al-Qassam

Brigades also have other paramilitary units and brigades, often named after prominent HAMAS leaders considered “martyrs” by HAMAS. The following is the emblem of the al-Qassam Brigades:

18. HAMAS also has other constituent organizations and associations that are controlled by HAMAS that operate as part of HAMAS and carry out its activities, including HAMAS’s student wing, the Islamic Bloc. The following is the emblem of HAMAS’ Islamic Bloc:

19. Between the time of its founding in December 1987 until the present, HAMAS carried out thousands of terrorist attacks in Israel, the West Bank, and Gaza, murdering hundreds of Israeli and U.S. citizens, as well as the nationals of many other countries, and wounding thousands more. HAMAS’s policy and practice of

1 carrying out terrorist attacks was and are notorious and well-known to the public at 2 large and to social media.
 3

4 Terrorist Designation of HAMAS

5
 6 20. On October 8, 1997, the U.S. Secretary of State officially designated HAMAS
 7 (including specifically its “Izz al-Din al-Qassam Brigades”) as a “Foreign Terrorist
 8 Organization” (“FTO”) pursuant to § 219 of the Immigration and Nationality Act,
 9 8 U.S.C. § 1189, as amended by the AEDPA. 62 Fed. Reg. 52650 (1997). This 10 designation remains in effect to this day.

 13 21. After the September 11, 2001, terrorist attacks on the United States, U.S. President
 14 George W. Bush issued Executive Order No. 13224, declaring a national emergency 15 with respect to the “grave acts of terrorism . . . and the continuing and immediate 16 threat of further attacks on United States nationals or the United States.” Executive 17 Order No. 13224 blocked all property and interests in property of “Specially 18 Designated Global Terrorists” (“SDGT”s), prohibited the provision of funds, goods
 19 or services for the benefit of SDGT’s, and authorized the U.S. Treasury to block the 20 assets of individuals and entities that provide support, services, or assistance to, or 21 otherwise associate with, SDGT’s, as well as their subsidiaries, front organizations, 22 agents, and associates.
 23
 25
 26

27 22. The U.S. Secretary of State officially designated HAMAS (including its Izz al- Din
 28

1 al-Qassam Brigades) as an SDGT pursuant to Executive Order No. 13224 on 2 October 31, 2001. 67 Fed. Reg. 12633-12635 (2002). This designation remains in 3 effect to this day.
4

5 23. Between 1999 and the dates of the terrorist attacks at issue in this case, the courts
6 of the United States, including this Court, have published a number of decisions
7 finding that HAMAS was responsible for terrorist attacks in which American and 8 Israeli citizens were killed or injured.
9

10 HAMAS is Dependent on Twitter, YouTube, and Facebook to Terrorize
11

12 HAMAS Uses Defendants to Recruit New Terrorists
13

14 24. One of HAMAS's primary uses of Defendants' sites is as a recruitment platform,
15 particularly to draw fighters from Western countries.

16 25. HAMAS reaches potential recruits by maintaining accounts on Twitter, YouTube,
17 and Facebook so that individuals across the globe may reach out to them directly.
18 After the first contact, potential recruits and HAMAS recruiters often communicate 19 via Defendants' Direct Messaging capabilities. This is similar to methods used by 20 ISIS in conducting ISIS-sponsored terrorist activities. According to FBI Director
21 James Comey, "[o]ne of the challenges in facing this hydra-headed monster is that 22 if (ISIS) finds someone online, someone who might be willing to travel or kill in 23 place they will begin a twitter direct messaging contact." Indeed, according to the 24 Brookings Institution, some ISIS members "use Twitter purely for private messaging
25
26
27
28

1 or covert signaling.” As with ISIS, HAMAS uses Defendants sites for similar 2 purposes.

3 26. The Washington Institute reported that social media “enables terrorist groups to 4 conduct a virtual recruitment drive that, while passive and intangible, has the capacity
5 to reach out to a far larger audience -- one that can be reached at any time of day, in 6 any weather, under any conditions (i.e., even when neighborhoods are under curfew
7 or closure), and anywhere -- not just the West Bank and Gaza Strip, but the world
8 entire. To this end, Hamas operates websites in Arabic, English, Russian, French,
9 Faris (Persian), Urdu, and Malay, which are run off servers in the United States,
10 Russia, Ukraine, and Indonesia.<sup>3</sup>

12
13 27. CBC also reported that HAMAS recruits through social media. Gabriel Weimann, of 14 the University of Haifa, stated that “Today, about 90 percent of organized terrorism
15 on the internet is being carried out through social media. By using these tools, the 16 organizations are able to be active in recruiting new friends without geographical 17 limitations.”<sup>4</sup>

19 28. Hamas has also used YouTube videos as a way to solicit potential recruits. One 20 example of this is the video below which is a recruitment video meant for children.

HAMAS Uses Defendants to Fund Terrorism

29. HAMAS also uses Defendants to raise funds for its terrorist activities.

30. It has been reported that HAMAS has used Facebook to as a medium to ask other users for money.

31. This same source also reported that a different Hamas supporter was using Facebook and twitter to support crowdfunding for HAMAS.<sup>5</sup>
32. As discussed more fully below, YouTube approves of HAMAS videos allowing for ads to be placed with HAMAS videos. YouTube earns revenue from these advertisements and shares a portion of the proceeds with HAMAS.
33. Below is an example of a video posted by HAMAS on YouTube with a propaganda video seeking viewers to support HAMAS's cause online.

ISIS Uses Defendants' Sites to Spread Its Propaganda

34. HAMAS also uses Defendants' sites to spread propaganda and incite fear by posting graphic photos and videos of its terrorist feats.

35. Through Defendants' sites, HAMAS disseminates its official media publications as well as posts about real-time atrocities and threats to its perceived enemies.

36. Ismail Haniyeh, the top HAMAS leader in the Gaza Strip, has maintained a Twitter account since March 2012 and has 27.2 thousand followers. Khaled Mashaal, the group's chief, has had an account active since August 2014, now with 2,314 followers. The main HAMAS Twitter page, active since October 2010, has 37.1 thousand followers.

37. On March 13, 2015, HAMAS launched a twitter campaign #AskHAMAS to reach out to potential recruits and connect with the general public.

38. HAMAS's official websites have included hyperlinks (signified by Facebook's symbol "f") to Facebook pages operated by HAMAS, as shown in the following screenshot from HAMAS's primary official Arabic website:

39. HAMAS information websites and forums also maintain Facebook accounts, which they use to promote and carry out HAMAS activities. Some of these HAMAS information websites and forums maintain multiple Facebook sites, including separate Facebook sites in Arabic and English. One example of HAMAS information websites and forums that use Facebook to promote and carry out HAMAS activities is the Palestinian Information Center.<sup>6</sup>

Defendants Knowingly Permit ISIS to Use Their Social Network

The Use of Twitter by Terrorists Has Been Widely Reported

42. On For years, the media has reported on the HAMAS use of Defendants' social media sites and their refusal to take any meaningful action to stop it.

1 43. On November 12, 2012, thedailybeast.com released an article titled Is HAMAS's
 2 Twitter Account Illegal?<sup>7</sup>

3 44. On July 14, 2014, BBCwatch.org reported the use of misleading pictures on twitter
 4 by HAMAS for propaganda purposes.<sup>8</sup>

5 45. On March 13, 2015, several agencies (including the Washington post, Ibtimes, and 6 news.vice.com) reported that HAMAS launched a twitter campaign #AskHAMAS.
 7 The campaign promised responses from the group's leaders, or as they called it,
 8 "Truth from the mouth of the horse." Bassem Naim, a HAMAS official, said
 9 the campaign was "a step by HAMAS to introduce it to the world in new 10 languages – English, French and German – on the basis that the source is a
 11 direct HAMAS official, not through mediators or translators."<sup>9</sup>

12 The Use of Facebook by HAMAS has Been Widely Reported

13 46. On January 10, 2012, CBC News Released an article stating that Facebook is being 14 used by terrorist organizations for recruitment and to gather military and political 15 intelligence "Many users don't even bother finding out who they are confirming as

 4 YouTube, Facebook, and Twitter doing more to stop terrorists from inciting
 5 violence?<sup>11</sup>
 6

7 48. On October 28, 2015, at the Radicalization: Social Media And The Rise Of Terrorism

 9 Officers with an ax posted on Facebook "[w]hich is better, to sit around and do

 11

12 49. At this same hearing, it was also reported that in September 2014 "Alton Nolen, a
 13 convert to Islam and ex-convict who had just been fired from his job at a food
 14 processing plant, entered his former workplace and beheaded an employee with a

 3 “will for any martyr.” Very likely, they made use of one of the thousands of posts,

9 51. On April 8, 2016, the Mirror reported that “Jihadi fighters in the Middle East are

- 1 59. Throughout this period, both the U.S. government and the public at large have urged
2 Defendants to stop providing its services to terrorists.
- 3 60. In December 2011, an Israeli law group threatened to file suit against Twitter for 4 allowing terrorist groups like Hezbollah to use its social network in violation of U.S.
5 anti-terrorism laws.
- 6 61. In December 2012, several members of Congress wrote to FBI Director Robert 7 Mueller asking the Bureau to demand that the Twitter block the accounts of various 8 terrorist groups.
- 9 62. In a committee hearing held on August 2, 2012, Rep. Ted Poe, chair of the House
10 Foreign Affairs Subcommittee on Terrorism, lamented that “when it comes to a 11 terrorist using Twitter, Twitter has not shut down or suspended a single account.”
12 “Terrorists are using Twitter,” Rep. Poe added, and “[i]t seems like it’s a violation of 13 the law.” In 2015, Rep. Poe again reported that Twitter had consistently failed to 14 respond sufficiently to pleas to shut down clear incitements to violence by terrorists.
- 15 63. Recently, former Secretary of State Hillary Clinton has urged Defendants to 16 become more aggressive in preventing terrorists from using their network. “Resolve 17 means depriving jihadists of virtual territory, just as we work to deprive them of 18 actual territory,” she told one audience. Later, Secy. Clinton stated that Twitter and 19 other companies “cannot permit the recruitment and the actual direction of attacks or

1 the celebration of violence by this sophisticated Internet user. They're going to have
 2 to help us take down these announcements and these appeals.”

3
 4 64. On January 7, 2016, White House officials announced that they would hold high-
 5 level discussions with Defendants to encourage them “to do more to block terrorists”
 6 from using their services. “The primary purpose is for government officials to press
 7 the biggest Internet firms to take a more proactive approach to countering terrorist
 8 messages and recruitment online. . . . That issue has long vexed U.S.
 9 counterterrorism officials, as terror groups use Twitter . . . to spread terrorist
 10 propaganda, cultivate followers and steer them toward committing violence. But 11 the companies have resisted some requests by law-enforcement leaders to take action
 13 . . .”

14 Defendants Have Failed to Prevent HAMAS From Using its Services

15
 16 65. Despite these appeals, Defendants have failed to take meaningful action.

17
 18 66. In a January 2011 blog post entitled “The tweets Must Flow,” Twitter co-founder
 19 Biz Stone and Twitter General Counsel Alex Macgillivray wrote: “We don’t always 20 agree with the things people choose to tweet, but we keep the information flowing 21 irrespective of any view we may have about the content.”

 23 67. On June 20, 2014, Twitter founder Biz Stone, responding to media questions about 24 ISIS’s use of Twitter to publicize its acts of terrorism, said, “[i]f you want to create a
 25 platform that allows for the freedom of expression for hundreds of millions of people
 26 around the world, you really have to take the good with the bad.”
 27
 28

1 68. In September 2014, Twitter spokesperson Nu Wexler reiterated Twitter's hands-off
2 approach, telling the press, "Twitter users around the world send approximately 500
3 million tweets each day, and we do not monitor them proactively." "The Twitter
4 Rules" reiterated that Twitter "do[es] not actively monitor and will not censor user
5 content, except in exceptional circumstances." In February 2015, Twitter confirmed 6 that it does not proactively monitor content and that it reviews only that content which 7 is reported by other users as violating its rules.
8

10 69. Most technology experts agree that Defendants could and should be doing more to 11 stop HAMAS and other terrorist groups from using Defendants' social networks.
12 "When Twitter says, 'We can't do this,' I don't believe that," said Hany Farid, 13 chairman of the computer science department at Dartmouth College. Mr. Farid, who 14 co-developed a child pornography tracking system with Microsoft, says that the same
15 technology could be applied to terror content, so long as companies were motivated
16 to do so. "There's no fundamental technology or engineering limitation," he said.
17 "This is a business or policy decision. Unless the companies have decided that they 18 just can't be bothered."

21 70. According to Rita Katz, the director of SITE Intelligence Group, "Twitter is not doing
22 enough. With the technology Twitter has, they can immediately stop these accounts,
23 but they have done nothing to stop the dissemination and recruitment of lone wolf
24 terrorists."
25
26
27
28

1 71. Even when Defendants shut down a terrorist-linked account, they do nothing to stop
2 it from springing right back up. According to the New York Times, the Twitter
3 account of the pro- terrorist group Asawitiri Media has had 335 accounts. When its 4 account @TurMedia333 was shut down, it started @TurMedia334. When that was 5 shut down, it started @TurMedia335. This “naming convention — adding one digit
6 to a new account after the last one is suspended — does not seem as if it would require
7 artificial intelligence to spot.” Each of these accounts also used the same user
8 photograph of a bearded man’s face over and over again. In the hours after the 9 shooting attack in San Bernardino, California on December 2, 2015, @TurMedia335
10 tweeted: “California, we have already arrived with our soldiers. Decide how to be 11 your end, with knife or bomb.”
12

14 72. Using this simplistic naming scheme is critical to HAMAS’ use of social media.
15 Without a common prefix, it would be difficult for followers of HAMAS’ accounts
16 to know the new name of the account.
17

18 73. Because of the simplistic renaming scheme, Defendants could easily detect names
19 that are likely to be replacement accounts and delete them almost as soon as they are 20 created. Yet Defendants have failed to implement such a basic account detection
21 methodology.

24 74. Furthermore, HAMAS keeps track of the followers of each account. Once an account
25 is deleted by one of the Defendants and then regenerated, HAMAS uses a bot to 26 contact each of its followers asking them to connect. This allows HAMAS to 27
28

1 reconstitute the connections for each account very quickly. Defendants could easily
2 detect such activity but chose not to.

3
4 75. Although Defendants proclaim that they do take accounts down including those of 5 HAMAS, Defendants do nothing to keep those accounts down. HAMAS and other 6 nefarious groups are dependent upon having a social media network from which to 7 collect money and conduct terrorist operations including recruitment and 8 radicalization.
9

10
11 76. The following example illustrates how Defendants allow ISIS to quickly construct 12 networks of followers. Although the example is based upon an ISIS follower, this 13 example equally applies to other terrorist organizations, including HAMAS. Below
14 is a posting from twitter captured on June 20, 2016. The individual is named 15 “DriftOne00146” and he proudly proclaims that this is the 146th version of his 16 account. With only 11 tweets, this individual is followed by 349 followers. This is 17 very suspicious activity.

78. The next morning, this individual's account was taken down by Twitter. That afternoon, he was back up as DriftOne0147 with 80 followers.

79. The very next week on June 28, 2016, the same individual was back up as DriftOne150. Most disturbing is that his posting of #Bangladesh and #Dhaka just three days before the unfortunate ISIS attack in Dhaka, Bangladesh.

80. The day after the attacks, he is now DriftOne0151 and he posts pictures of those individuals who conducted the attacks.

81. What the above example clearly demonstrates is that there is a pattern that is easily detectable without reference to the content. As such, a content-neutral algorithm could be easily developed that would prohibit the above behavior. First, there is a text prefix to the username that contains a numerical suffix. When an account is taken down by a Defendant, assuredly all such names are tracked by Defendants. It would be trivial to detect names that appear to have the same name root with a numerical suffix which is incremented. By limiting the ability to simply create a new account by incrementing a numerical suffix to one which has been deleted, this will disrupt the ability of individuals and organizations from using Defendants networks

1 as an instrument for conducting terrorist operations.

2 82. Prohibiting this conduct would be simple for Defendants to implement and not
3 impinge upon the utility of Defendants sites. There is no legitimate purpose for 4 allowing the use of fixed prefix/incremental numerical suffix names. Preventing the 5 use of these names once a similarly named account would not place a significant 6 burden on Defendants to implement nor would it place any “chilling” effect on the 7 use of Defendants’ sites.
8

10 83. Sending out large numbers of requests to connect with friends/followers from a
11 newly created account is also suspicious activity. As shown in the “DriftOne”
12 example above, it is clear that this individual must be keeping track of those 13 previously connected. When an account is taken down and then re-established, the 14 individual then uses an automated method to send out requests to all those members
15 previously connected. Thus, accounts for HAMAS and others can quickly
16 reconstitute after being deleted. Such activity is suspicious on its face.
17

19 84. Clearly, it is not normal activity for a newly created account to send out large
20 numbers of requests for friends and followers immediately after creation. It is further 21 unusual for those connections requests to be accepted in a very short period of time.
22 As such, this activity would be easy to detect and could be prohibited by Defendants
23 in a content-neutral manner as the content is never considered; only the conduct.

25
26 85. Furthermore, limiting the rapidity with which a newly created account can send 27
28

1 requests to friends/followers would not place a significant burden on Defendants to
2 implement. Once again, such activity is suspicious and suggestive of reconstitution
3 of an account which was deleted by Defendants. In addition, Defendants could easily
4 track that a newly created account similarly named to one previously taken down is 5 sending out large numbers of requests in a very short period of time.
6

8 86. Because the suspicious activity used by HAMAS and other nefarious organizations
9 engaged in illegal activities is easily detectable and preventable and that Defendants
10 are fully aware that these organizations are using their networks to engage in illegal
11 activity demonstrates that Defendants are acting knowingly and recklessly allowing 12 such illegal conduct. HAMAS is dependent on using social media to conduct its 13 terrorist operations. Limiting HAMAS' ability to rapidly connect and reconnect to 14 supports Thus, Defendants knowing and reckless conduct provides materials support
15 to HAMAS and other nefarious organizations.
16
18

19 87. Notably, while Twitter has now put in place a rule that supposedly prohibits "threats
20 of violence . . . including threatening or promoting terrorism," many ISIS-themed
21 accounts are still easily found on Twitter.com. To this day, Twitter also permits
22 groups designated by the U.S. government as Foreign Terrorist Organizations to 23 maintain official accounts, including Hamas (@hamasinfo and @HamasInfoEn) and 24 Hizbollah (@almanarnews).
25
26
27
28

1 88. On November 17, 2015, the hacking group Anonymous took down several thousand
2 ISIS Twitter accounts. That an external third party could identify and disrupt ISIS
3 Twitter accounts confirms that Twitter itself could have prevented or substantially
4 limited other terrorist groups' use of Twitter.
5

6 Twitter, Facebook, and Google Profit From Allowing HAMAS to USE THEIR
7 SERVICES

8 89. Astonishingly, Defendants routinely profit from HAMAS. Each Defendant places
9 ads on HAMAS postings and derives revenue for the ad placement.
10

11 90. These ads are not placed randomly by Defendants. Instead, they are targeted to the 12 viewer using knowledge about the viewer as well as information about the content
13 being viewed. The following sites for each Defendant show how targeting works:
14

15 <https://business.twitter.com/en/targeting.html>, https://www.facebook.com/business/a/online-
16 sales/ad-targeting-details,
17 https://static.googleusercontent.com/media/www.youtube.com/en/yt/advertise/medias/pdfs/target
18 ing-onesheet-en.pdf.
19

20 91. By specifically targeting advertisements based on viewers and content, Defendants
21 are no longer simply passing through the content of third parties. Defendants are 22 themselves creating content because Defendants exercise control over what 23 advertisement to match with a HAMAS posting. Furthermore, Defendants' profits
24
25
26
27
28

are enhanced by charging advertisers extra for targeting advertisements at viewers based upon knowledge of the viewer and the content being viewed.

92. Not only does Defendant Google profit from HAMAS, it shares some of those revenues with HAMAS. In order for ads to appear associated with a posting on a YouTube video, the poster must create a Google AdSense account. The poster must the register the account for monetization<sup>22</sup>.

▼ How can my videos make money?

Once your video is submitted and approved for monetization, YouTube will place ads inside or near the video. After you've associated an AdSense account with your YouTube account, you will earn revenue that is generated from the ads. Learn more

93. According to Google, each video must be approved in order for ads to be placed. These videos must meet Googles' terms of service.

▼ What types of videos are eligible?

For a video to be eligible, you must own worldwide commercial usage rights to everything in the video and the video must abide by our Terms of Service and Community Guidelines.

94. Videos that are approved generate revenue for both the poster and for Google. Therefore, according to its terms, if there are ads associated with a YouTube video, the video has been approved by Google, Google is earning revenue from each view of that video, and Google is sharing revenue with the poster.

95. With respect to HAMAS, Google has placed ads on HAMAS postings.

<sup>22</sup> https://www.youtube.com/account\_monetization accessed on 5/24/2016.

96. Given that ad placement on videos requires Google's specific approval of the video according to Google's terms and conditions, any video which is associated with advertising has been approved by Google.
97. Because ads appear on the above video posted by HAMAS, this means that Google specifically approved the video for monetization, Google earned revenue from each view of this video, and Google shared the revenue with HAMAS. As a result, Google provides material support to HAMAS.

98. Twitter also profits from material posted by HAMAS by routinely placing ads. For example, a view of the account of @hamasGlobalPR on January 10, 2017, shows that Twitter placed an ad for Velveeta and Rotel. As such, Twitter provides material support to HAMAS and is compensated for the effort.

99. Facebook also profits from HAMAS postings. On January 10, 2016, the following screenshot was collected:

100. As such, Facebook provides material support to ISIS and is compensated for the effort.

101. Thus, not only does each Defendant provide material support to HAMAS by allowing ISIS to make use of their social media sites, each Defendant derives revenue from ISIS postings irrespective of the content of HAMAS' postings.

Defendants Allow for Other Extremism Groups to be Educated and Inspired by HAMAS Through Their Websites

102. Other extremist groups have been inspired and educated through Hama's use of Defendants' sites.

103. One clear example of this is the manner in which black separatist hate groups have clearly implemented social material created by HAMAS into its own propaganda and methodology.

104. When the uprising in Ferguson began in 2014, HAMAS sympathizers and members reached out to rioters with support and tweeted advice to the protesters on what to do after getting hit with tear gas.<sup>23</sup>

109. On January 9, 2015, Black journalists, artists and organizers representing Ferguson, Black Lives Matter, Black Youth Project 100 (BYP100), and more have joined the Dream Defenders for a 10-day trip to the occupied Palestinian Territories and Israel. Ahmad Abuznaid, Dream Defenders' legal and policy director and a co-organizer of the delegation, said that the goal of the trip was "primarily to allow for the group members to experience and see firsthand the occupation, ethnic cleansing and brutality Israel has levied against Palestinians, but also to build real relationships with those on the ground leading the fight for liberation," and that "[i]n the spirit of Malcolm X, Angela Davis, Stokely Carmichael, and many others, we thought the connections between the African American leadership of the movement in the US and those on the ground in Palestine needed to be reestablished and fortified."<sup>27</sup>

7 officers in Dallas, Texas, killing five officers and injuring nine others. Two civilians
8 were also wounded.

10 123. The shooting was the deadliest incident for U.S. law enforcement since 11 the September 11 attacks, surpassing two related March 2009 shootings in Oakland,
12 California and a November 2009 ambush shooting in Lakewood, Washington.

15 124. The reach of HAMAS has been substantial fueled through their use of Defendants'
16 social media sites which have been used by HAMAS for fundraising activities,
17 recruitment, and radicalization of individuals. Furthermore, as discussed above,
18 Defendant Google shares advertising revenue with HAMAS.

20
21 125. Defendants' sites have been used by HAMAS to conduct terrorist operations, 22 including the Dallas attack and have also been used as a recruitment tool and 23 fundraising tool.

24
25 126. On information and belief, Micah Johnson was radicalized, in part, by reviewing 26 postings of HAMAS and other terrorist groups on the internet and Defendants' social media sites.
27
28

127. This is further substantiated by the Southern Poverty Law Center (SPLC) and news outlets reported that Johnson "liked" the Facebook pages of Black Nationalist organizations such as the New Black Panther Party (NBPP), Nation of Islam, and Black Riders Liberation Army, three groups which are listed by the SPLC as hate groups.<sup>36</sup>

128. Johnson also "liked" the Facebook page of the African American Defense League, whose leader, Mauricelm-Lei Millere, called for the murders of police officers across the U.S. following the fatal 2014 shooting of Laquan McDonald. In response to the police killing of Alton Sterling, the organization had "posted a message earlier in the week encouraging violence against police"<sup>37</sup>

129. HAMAS' used Defendants' sites to radicalize individuals to conduct terrorist activities. Micah Johnson was radicalized by HAMAS's and other Black Separatist Hate Groups' use of Defendants' tools to conduct terrorist operations.

130. Without the ability to use Defendants' sites as tools to conduct terrorist operations, HAMAS would have substantially less funding, substantially less exposure, and would not be able to recruit as many operatives.

1 131. Money raised through the use of Defendants sites was used by HAMAS to conduct
2 terrorist operations including the radicalization of Micah Johnson.

3
4 132. Individuals recruited by HAMAS through the use of Defendants sites allowed ISIS
5 to conduct terrorist operations, including the Dallas Police shootings leading to 6 Plaintiff's damages.
7

8 133. But for HAMAS' use of Defendants sites to raise funds, recruit, and conduct terrorist
9 operations, HAMAS' ability to conduct terrorist operations would essentially
10 evaporate. Here, had Defendants sites not been used by HAMAS, and other Black 11 Separatist Hate Groups, Micah Johnson would not have been radicalized and the 12 deadly attack in Dallas would not have occurred.
13
14

15
16 134. Plaintiff Demetrick Pennie was one of the first responders from the Dallas Police to 17 the shooting scene. He knew the officers wounded and killed individually and 18 personally. To this day, he suffers severe emotional distress reliving the horrific
19 scene. Furthermore, as a result of postings from HAMAS and other radical groups,
20 Pennie receives threats of death and bodily harm on a frequent basis.
21
22

23 Defendants Are Information Content Providers
24

25 135. When individuals look at a page on one of Defendants' sites that contain postings
26 and advertisements, the page has been created by Defendants. In other words, a 27
28

1 viewer does not simply see a posting. Nor does the viewer see just an advertisement.

2 Defendants create a composite page of content from multiple sources.

3
4 136. Defendants create this page by selecting which advertisement to match with the 5 content on the page. This selection is done by Defendants' proprietary algorithms
6 that select the advertisement based on information about the viewer and the content
7 being viewed. Thus there is a content triangle matching postings, advertisements,
8 and viewers.
9

11 137. As discussed above, Defendants tout the ability to target advertisements as a benefit
12 to advertising with the respective networks. Furthermore, Defendants extract a 13 premium from advertisers for the use of targeted advertising.
14

16 138. Although Defendants have not created the posting nor have they created the 17 advertisement, Defendants have created new unique content by choosing which 18 advertisement to combine with the posting with knowledge about the viewer.
19

20 139. Thus, Defendants have incorporated content from others into Defendant created
21 content for revenue purposes. Defendants' choice to combine certain advertisements
22 with certain postings for specific viewers means that Defendants are not simply 23 passing along content created by third parties.
24
25
26
27
28

1 140. Specifically, as shown above, Defendants have incorporated HAMAS' postings
2 along with advertisements matched to the viewer and HAMAS postings to create new
3 content for which Defendants have earned revenue. HAMAS has received material
4 support as described above allowing them to conduct terrorist operations.

9 LIABILITY FOR AIDING AND ABETTING
10 ACTS OF INTERNATIONAL TERRORISM
11 PURSUANT TO 18 U.S.C. § 2333(a) and (d)

12 141. Plaintiff repeats and re-alleges each and every allegation of the foregoing paragraphs 13 as if fully set forth herein.
14

15 142. Since October 31, 2001, HAMAS has been international terrorist organization.
16

17 143. HAMAS has committed, planned, or authorized activities that involved violence or 18 acts dangerous to human life that are a violation of the criminal laws of the United 19 States, or that would be a criminal violation if committed within the jurisdiction of 20 the United States, including inter alia the prohibition on killing, attempting to kill,
21 causing serious bodily injury, or attempting to cause serious bodily injury to U.S.
22 citizens as set forth in 18 U.S.C. § 2332.
23
24
25
26
27
28

1 144. These activities committed, planned, or authorized by HAMAS appear to have been,
2 and were intended to: (a) intimidate or coerce the civilian population of the United
3 States and other countries; (b) influence the policy of the Governments of the United 4 States and other countries by intimidation or coercion; or (c) affect the conduct of the 5 Governments of the United States and other countries by mass destruction,
6 assassination, or kidnapping.
7

8
9 145. These activities committed, planned, or authorized by HAMAS occurred entirely or 10 primarily outside of the territorial jurisdiction of the United States and constituted
11 acts of international terrorism as defined in 18 U.S.C. § 2331(1).
12
13

14 146. Plaintiffs has been injured in their person by reason of the acts of international 15 terrorism committed, planned, or authorized by HAMAS. At all times relevant to 16 this action, Defendants knew that HAMAS was a Foreign Terrorist Organization,
17 that it had engaged in and continued to engage in illegal acts of terrorism, including 18 international terrorism.
19
20

21 147. Defendants knowingly provided substantial assistance and encouragement to 22 HAMAS, and thus aided and abetted HAMAS in committing, planning, or 23 authorizing acts of international terrorism, including the acts of international 24 terrorism that injured plaintiff.
25
26
27
28

1 148. By aiding and abetting HAMAS in committing, planning, or authorizing acts of
2 international terrorism, including acts that caused plaintiff to be injured in his or her
3 person and property, Defendants are liable pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 2333(a) and (d) 4 for threefold any and all damages that plaintiffs have sustained as a result of such 5 injuries, and the costs of this suit, including attorney's fees.
6

8 149. The services and support that Defendants purposefully, knowingly or with willful
9 blindness provided to ISIS constitute material support to the preparation and carrying 10 out of acts of international terrorism, including the attack in which Nohemi Gonzalez
11 was killed.
12

14 150. Defendants' provision of material support to ISIS was a proximate cause of the 15 injury inflicted on Plaintiff.
16

17 151. By virtue of its violations of 18 U.S.C. § 2339A, Defendants are liable pursuant to 18 18 U.S.C. § 2333 for any and all damages that Plaintiff has sustained.
19

20 SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF

21 LIABILITY FOR CONSPIRING IN FURTHERANCE OF ACTS OF 22 INTERNATIONAL TERRORISM PURSUANT TO 18 U.S.C. § 2333(a) and (d)
23

24
25 152. Plaintiffs repeat and reallege each and every allegation of the foregoing paragraphs
26 as if fully set forth herein.
27
28

1 153. Defendants knowingly agreed, licensed, and permitted HAMAS its affiliates, and
2 other radical groups to register and use Defendants' sites to promote and carry out
3 HAMAS's activities, including HAMAS's illegal acts of international terrorism and 4 injured plaintiff.
5

6 154. Defendants were aware that U.S. federal law prohibited providing material support
7 and resources to, or engaging in transactions with, designated foreign terrorist
8 organizations and other specially designated terrorists.
9

10 155. Defendants thus conspired with HAMAS in its illegal provision of Defendants' sites
11 to promote and carry out HAMAS's illegal acts of international terrorism, including 12 the acts that injured plaintiff.
13

15 156. By conspiring with HAMAS in furtherance of HAMAS's committing, planning, or 16 authorizing acts of international terrorism, including acts that caused each of the 17 plaintiffs to be injured in his or her person and property, Defendants are liable
18 pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 2333(a) and (d) for threefold any and all damages that 19 plaintiffs have sustained as a result of such injuries, and the costs of this suit,
20 including attorney's fees.
21
22
23

24 THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF

25 PROVISION OF MATERIAL SUPPORT TO TERRORISTS IN VIOLATION OF 26 18 U.S.C. § 2339a AND 18 U.S.C. § 2333
27
28

1 157. Plaintiffs repeat and reallege each and every allegation of the foregoing paragraphs
2 as if fully set forth herein.
3

4 158. The online social media platform and communication services which Defendants
5 knowingly provided to HAMAS, including use of Defendants' services, computers,
6 and communications equipment, substantially assisted HAMAS in carrying out its 7 terrorist activities, including recruiting, radicalizing, and instructing terrorists, raising
8 funds, creating fear and carrying out attacks among other things.
9
10

11 159. These services and equipment constituted material support and resources pursuant to 12 18 U.S.C. § 2339A, and they facilitated acts of terrorism in violation of 18 U.S.C. §
13 2332 that caused the deaths of 5 police officers (4 from Dallas Police and 1 Dart
14 Police) and injured 9 other officers by gunfire and the identified injuries to plaintiff.
15

17 160. Defendant provided these services and equipment to HAMAS, knowing that they
18 were to be used in preparation for, or in carrying out, criminal acts including the acts
19 that injured the plaintiff.
20

22 161. As set forth more fully above, but for the material support and resources provided by 23 HAMAS, the attack that injured the plaintiffs would have been substantially more 24 difficult to implement.
25
26
27
28

162. By participating in the commission of violations of 18 U.S.C. § 2339A that have caused the plaintiffs to be injured in his or her person, business or property, Defendants are liable pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 2333 for any and all damages that plaintiff has sustained as a result of such injuries.

FOURTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

PROVISION OF MATERIAL SUPPORT AND RESOURCES TO A DESIGNATED FOREIGN TERRORIST ORGANIZATION IN VIOLATION OF 18 U.S.C. § 2339B(a)(1) AND 18 U.S.C. § 2333(a)

163. Plaintiffs repeat and reallege each and every allegation of the foregoing paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

164. By knowingly (or with willful blindness) providing their social media platforms and communications services, including use of computer and communications equipment, for the benefit of HAMAS, Defendants have provided material support and resources to a designated Foreign Terrorist Organization under the Antiterrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act of 1996 in violation of 18 U.S.C § 2339B(a)(1).

165. Defendants knew of (or was willfully blind to) HAMAS' terrorist activities.

166. Defendants knew (or was willfully blind to the fact) that HAMAS had been designated a Foreign Terrorist Organization by the United States Government.

167. Defendants' violation of 18 U.S.C. § 2339B proximately caused the damages to plaintiff described herein.

1 168. By knowingly (or with willful blindness) providing material support to a designated
2 Foreign Terrorist Organization, Defendants are therefore civilly liable for damages
3 to Plaintiff for his injuries pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 2333(a).
4

5 FIFTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

7
8 169. Plaintiff repeats and realleges each of the foregoing allegations with the same force
9 and effect as if more fully set forth herein.
10

11 170. Defendants engaged in negligent behavior by providing services to HAMAS.
12

13 171. Defendants' acts of providing services to HAMAS constituted a willful violation of 14 federal statutes, and thus amounted to a willful violation of a statutory standard.
15

16 172. As a direct, foreseeable and proximate result of the conduct of Defendants as 17 alleged hereinabove, Plaintiff has suffered severe emotional distress, and therefore 18 Defendants are liable to the plaintiffs for Plaintiff's severe emotional distress and 19 related damages.
20
